NUMB. 3338

WEDNESDAY, JULY 18, 1744

Yesterday arriv'd two Mails from Flanders.

Rome, July 4.

HE Ceremony of presenting the Hackney, by Way of Tribute for the Kingdom of Naples, was performed on the Eve of St. Peter and Paul, with the accustomed Ceremonies, and even with greater Pomp than is usual. The two Armies are still in the same Position in the Neighbourhood Veitri, and content themselves with cannonading each other from Morning till Night; but nothing decisive has happen'd, or is like to happen. A Rumour prevails in the Austrian Army, that Prince Lobkowitz waits the Arrival of some English Ships on the Coast of the Ecclesiastical State; and Yesterday a Courier arriv'd at the Head Quarters at Nemi, from Admiral Matthews, with Advice to his Highness, that the said Admiral had sent four Ships of the Line for his Service, which will soon be followed by a greater Number. Defections among the Neapolitans, and Diseases among the Austrians, increase daily.

Vienne, July 8. Yesterday, about Nine in the Evening, the Aid du Camp of his Serene Highness Prince Charles of Lorraine, arriv'd here, with the important News that he had pass'd the Rhine; upon which, Orders were immediately given for publick Rejoicings, and it is said, that the Drum will be shortly solemnized in the most magnificent Manner. According to our last Advices from Silesia, the Camp that was form'd there, is suddenly broke up, and the Troops are not only returned to Quarters, but Orders have been given for distributing Provisions and Military Stores that were lying up Magazines for the Use of those Troops. We attribute this to the Turn which Things have taken at the Court of Russia, where the Czarina has declared to the Prussian Minister, that, in pursuance of Treaties, she has herself engag'd to send a Body of Troops into Germany. By the breaking up of the Camp at Silesia, we are deliver'd from all Apprehensions; and it is thought, that Part of our Regular Troops will speedily march out of Bohemia, in order to replace the Troops which march'd out of the Electorate of Bavaria.

From the Head Quarters of the Austrian Army at Lauterbourg, July 13.

We are still here, tho' it was believed we should have march'd on the 11th; but the Dispositions which his Highness is oblig'd to make, take up a much greater Space of Time, than any who are not Eye-Witnesses of them can imagine. The Enemy so far from razing the Fortifications of Haguenau, as was reported, have taken Post in the Neighbourhood of that City, where they are intrenching themselves. General Prince Esterhazy is before Fort Lewis, with a considerable Corps of Hussars, and the Garrison having made some Salies, there has been Blood spilt on both Sides. General Nadasdy is march'd farther, with the Body under his Command. He has taken Post beyond the Forest of Haguenau, between the Town of that Name and Sultz. On the 10th there was a very warm Encounter between the Corps and a Detachment of the Enemy, from whom they took a good Number of Horses. On the 11th the Prince went Post to Weissenberg, in order to examine the Situation of the Place, the Works thrown up there, and the Country about it. General Berenclau, the Moment his Troops were going to march, received a Countermand; and it was not till next Morning, that he was detach'd with his Flying Camp of 1600 Men to join General Nadasdy at Sultz; and as they have been since followed by some Field Pieces, we expect to hear suddenly something of Importance.

Col. Count Forgatz return'd Yesterday to the Head Quarters, with six Officers of his Battalion, who were made Prisoners at Weissenberg on the 5th. We learn, that there are still in the Enemy's Hands 236 Soldiers, and 76 Carts. It is certain, that the Troops refused to obey the Orders that were sent them to quit the Lines; and some People think, that if the whole Corps under General Nadasdy had remained there, the French and Bavarians must have retired; as it was, they lost Abundance of Men, and they still desert by Hundreds every Day.

Manheim, July 14. The Head of the new Corps of Troops of 20,000 Men, which march'd on the 2d and 4th from Bavaria in two Columns, in order to reinforce the Army of Prince Charles of Lorraine, is already arriv'd upon the Neckar. They will take the Road of Willoch, whither Provisions and Forage are daily transporting for the necessary Subsistence of those Troops; and then the whole Corps will pass the Rhine where Prince Charles shall appoint. There are still on the other Side the River, and in the Bishoprick of Spire, several Detachments of Hungarian Troops; which have Orders to pick up what Magazines the French have left behind them, in order to bring their Contents on this Side the River.

Strasbourg, July 14. In the Night, between the 6th and 7th of this Month, the combined Army of the Emperor and the King quitted, as the Clock struck Twelve, the Lines of Weissenberg; and arriv'd, after a 12 Hours March, in the Evening of the 7th, on the other Side the Moselle, near Haguenau, where they still are. The Imperial Troops form the Right of the Army, which extends as far as Drusenheim; those of France are post'd along the Moselle as far as Nienbourg, and have their Head Quarters at Bischweiler; the heavy Baggage belonging to both Armies has been sent higher. We have strongly reinforced the Garrison of Fort Lewis. Count Isenbourg died lately here of a Fever, caused by the Wounds he received in the Action at Weissenberg on the 5th; as did the Count de Oeringen of those he sustained in the Skirmish when the Pandours pass'd the Rhine at Scherck. The first of these Noblemen was inter'd here, and the latter at Philipsbourg. The Count de Trufches, who was wounded in both Thighs, and was brought hither in a very weak Condition, is much better; and, in the Opinion of the Physicians, quite out of Danger. It is very positively asserted here, and most People incline to believe it, that the Generals Seckendorff and Coigny will remain firm in their present Posts, and wait there the Arrival of the Austrians, who are said to be in full March towards them. The Inhabitants of the Flat Country crowd hither with their best Effects. Prince Charles of Lorraine has already begun to exact heavy Contributions in the Lower Alsace.

P. S. We have this Moment Intelligence, that the Van of the Enemy's Army, consisting of light arm'd Troops, is arriv'd at Sultz, and extend themselves thro' the Forest of Haguenau, where they are getting together a vast Quantity of Fackles. We are assur'd, that the Peasants of the Upper Alsace have taken Arms, and are in full March to join the Army of M. Coigny.

Brussels, July 16. The Army of the Allies is begun to receive its Reinforcements; three English Regiments arriv'd there the Day before Yesterday; there are five Dutch Battalions at Ghent, ready to join them in a few Hours, and three other Regiments of the same Nation march'd some Days ago from Maestrich, and are expected here either To-day, or To-morrow at farthest. There are several other English and Dutch Regiments in full March for the Scheld, where they will all arrive before the End of next Week. We have likewise given the necessary Orders for withdrawing some Thousand Men out of the Garrisons of Tournay, Mons, and other Places; for which we are now no longer in Pain. Since the taking of Furnes, and the Departure of the Duke de Harcourt for Alsace, the Enemy have not undertaken any Thing; but seem to confine their present Views to repairing the old Fortifications of the Places they have taken, and strengthening them here and there with new Works.

L O N D O N.

The Sieur Twick'le who goes from the States to his most Christian Majesty, with their definitive Resolution on the present State of Affairs, is oblig'd to return in fourteen Days from his entering the French Quarters.

It is certain, that the Letters of M. de la Chetardie were decipher'd at another Court, and from thence sent back to Moscow. It appear'd from these Dispatches, that his Conduct was either wicked or weak, and we may be certain his Reputation is for ever blasted in Russia.

His Catholick Majesty has lately made a present to his Highness the Prince of Conti, of six Pieces of Brass Cannon, carrying Balls of 24 Pounds each, very finely wrought.

The Duke de Harcourt, at the Head of 30,000 Men, quitted Maybeque on the 14th, in order to march with all imaginable Expedition, to reinforce M. Coigny; and the Chevalier de Belleisle has had Orders to follow him with 6000 Horse and Dragoons.

They write from Berlin, that her Hungarian Majesty, and the States General, having written Letters of Felicitation to his Majesty on his Accession to the Principality of East-Friesland, the King has declared, he has nothing farther to expect from either of those Powers.

Lieutenant Kirvill is appointed a Captain in Col. Johnson's Regiment, now in Flanders.

By a Letter from Portsmouth, dated June 20, we are inform'd, that the Prosperous, Capt. Hewston, with Oil, from Galipoli, is arriv'd there, and has brought a Prize in with her.

The same Letter adds, that the Princess Caroline, the Worcester, the Dragon, the Dartmouth, and the Alderney, sail'd the 14th Instant for Lisbon, to convoy from thence the Victualing Ships bound hither. They took under Convoy the Neptune, Brodie, the Westmoreland, Shanks, the Tiber, Ambler, the Mary Gally, Baughurst, and the Golden Eagle, Hinton, bound for London.

The Burns, from Virginia for Liverpool, is carried into Morsh.

The Anne and Mary, Barnstern, from Staaten for London, is carried into Dunirk.

The Prince Edward, Dawson, is arriv'd at Genoa from London; and carried in with him a French Tartan, bound from Oran.

The Diamond, Gostley, is arriv'd at Leghorn from London, and carried in with him a French Vessel from the Morea, with Oil, bound to Marseilles.

The Friendship, M'Clean, from Newrey to Norway, was taken by a French Privateer off Kilda, and ransom'd for 80 l.

The Books of his Majesty's Ship the Fowey are sent to Deptford, to pay her Company to the 30th of June, 1741.

His Majesty's Ship the Devonshire, now re-building at Woolwich, is order'd to be forward'd with all Expedition; for which Purpose 300 Hands are employ'd.

cellency in Beautifying the Face, Neck, and Hands to the most exquisite Perfection possible, is to be had only at the Radford's Toyshop at the Rose and Crown against St. Clement's

It gives an inexpressible fine Air to the Features of the Face and delicately white.

Nothing in the World can sooner or more certainly away all disagreeable Redness, Spots, Pimples, Hives, Anger-ness, Morpew, Worms in the Face, Marks of the Small Pox, Sun-burn, or any other Discolouring, nor remove all Wrinkles so perfectly; for it quickly makes the Skin become so parably fine, clear, plump, soft, and beautifully fair, as to cause Admiration in the Beholders.

It really gives a most engaging resplendent Brightness to whole Countenance, and causes sparkling Life, Spirit, and mille Bloom to reign in every Feature, and yet is not Paint, but far exceeds it, by its bringing the Skin, colour of the Face, Neck, or Hands, and the brown, red, or ing Delicacy, which Paint only faintly imitates; and in this ROYAL BEAUTIFIER prepared from the best of Mercury, or any Thing Metaline, but is perfectly less and may be given inwardly even to Children. It has a pleasant Scent, will not soil the finest Lase, and is very agreeable to use.

But these its admirable Properties, by which it really ceeds any Thing whatever for the like Purpose, have caused many to imitate it, under various other Names, and fore of such Impositions, the true ROYAL BEAUTIFYING FLUID, that has given such universal Satisfaction to so many Ladies of Distinction, being only to be had at Mr. Radford's Toyshop above-mentioned at 3 s. 6 d. a Bottle with Directions,
